

American Mandolin & Guitar Summer School
presents

The Providence Mandolin Orchestra

Mark M. Davis - Director

Tuesday, June 23, 1998 at 8:00 PM

Roger Williams University, Bristol, Rhode Island

I.

Fandango

Enrique de Ulierte

Campañas del Alba

E. Sanz de la Maza

Concerto for mandolins

Allegro ma non tanto

Allegro

Allegro assai

Giuseppe Giuliano

soloists: Joshua Bell, Robert Asprinio

Pavane

Gabriel Fauré

arr. Jeff Dearing

Meditation

Dance

Michael Nix

Walnut Valley Suite

The Wake

Procession

Ritual Dance

Bruce Graybill

II.

"The Frog Prince: a mini-opera"

libretto by Betsy Hartford

music by Owen Hartford

The Narrator:

Mia Lidofsky

The Princess:

Ellen Santaniello

The Frog/Prince:

Eric Bronner

The King:

Ken Clauser

The Providence Mandolin Orchestra

Mark M. Davis - Director

1st Mandolin

Joshua Bell Lenny Boudreau Yvette Coté
Janice DeFrances Isabel Eccles
Owen Hartford Lisa Newby

2nd Mandolin

Robert Asprinio Lynn Bell Antonia Carlyon
Dottie Palsgrove Frank Piccirilli
Jacquelin Russom Ann Vito

Mandola

Mack Johnston Marilyn Mair
Gayle Raposa Robert Paul Sullivan

Mandocello

Judy Kenower Donald Heywood
David Westwick Paul Wilde

Guitar

Robert Martel Beverly Roy
Natalie Wright Joseph Zipoli

Mandobass

Nathaniel Davis

The Providence Mandolin Orchestra is recognized as one of the leading plucked string ensembles performing in the US today. They are known for the beauty of their sound and their expressive interpretations. The group includes instruments of the mandolin family, as well as classical guitar and accordion. The PMO has toured in Spain and released an acclaimed CD recording, 'Songs Without Words.' Tonight's program features an original mini-opera, "The Frog Prince," written for the PMO, as well as music from Baroque to contemporary. For more information on the Providence Mandolin Orchestra and its upcoming performances and classes, call (401) 273-6930.